Reliability and affordability

Powered by exceptionally robust AAPT Ethernet network. eLine provides high speed Internet access using Mid-Band Ethernet, so addresses the critical speeds needed by many businesses today – between 2 and 100 Mbps*. It is more reliable than traditional services such as ADSL, because if there is a fault on one line, the other lines remain operational and so continue to provide a service at a slightly reduced speed.

Faster uploads are critical for many businesses today

Whilst ADSL or ADSL2+, may be adequate for surfing the web and downloading music or games, most businesses today are producers, not just consumers of data. This means they commonly require as much upload as download bandwidth. Whether to support your mail-server, web-servers, virtual private network, business voice, or point-to-multipoint connections or other services used over the internet, high-speed uploads are critical for business efficiency.
